

CAWI

CAWI's contribution to the CAWI Sexual Health Campaign Initiative (June 2021 – June 2022) will focus on engaging Canadian citizens as active participants in their communities who are motivated to learn more about sexual violence, sexual and reproductive health, consent, and healthcare resources available across the provinces, with an intensive approach.

CAWI will improve both the knowledge and capacity of our partners to contribute to achieving Canada's Feminist International Assistance Policy (FIAP) action areas as well the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The goal of the CAWI Sexual Health Campaign is to raise awareness and educate Canadian citizens about sexual violence, sexual and reproductive health, consent, and healthcare resources available across the provinces. The theme of our project is to advocate for women's sexual health rights and education to promote a violence free environment for all women and girls. We will also prioritize youth speakers who are from an immigrant family or are immigrants; in order to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion within our organization. We are also narrowing some of our seminars to target the sexual health of women immigrants specifically. Sexual health is a taboo topic in many countries, which is why many immigrant women may not be able to find the appropriate resources once they immigrate to Canada.

The CAWI team plans to accomplish this project by partnering with local and national youth-led NGOs to deliver educational seminars and workshops to students and Canadian citizens. This project will start in June 2021 and it will end in June 2022. Each month, we will have a new event that will progress gender equality in the sense that every citizen regardless of their gender, sexuality and background should be educated on sexual violence, sexual and reproductive health, consent, and healthcare resources available across the provinces, in an intensive approach. We plan on partnering with youth led NGOs such as Sex and Self in Montreal, Planned Parenthood and IYAD McGill. As for those who may not be able to attend our seminars/workshops, we will be providing them with an intensive pamphlet with the information covered in our seminars, which will be available in various languages.

We will be sending out surveys to our participants about the impact of the seminars and workshops. We will also measure this by how many people we reached through our interactions online.

If you are interested in partnering for such an event, the deadline to register to collaborate is in March 2021.
